

Riverside County Supervisor Marion Ashley is beginning a 1-year stint as chairman of the Riverside County Board of Supervisors.

After he was sworn-in, Ashley listed several priorities Tuesday for 2010.

“One is public safety. We will have to strive hard to maintain our deputy sheriff patrols at safe levels both for our constituents and the public safety providers, the deputies themselves.”

Ashley added fiscal stability, reduction in the county vehicle fleet, quality of life issues, improvements at the County Regional Medical Center, alternative energy and job creation including the new March Medical Campus.
